

Reeder Tract

The Reeder Tract consists mostly of goose habitat with some patches of trees. It is not a very popular subunit, usually with fewer than 25 hunter visits per season. Reeder Tract is treated as a blind subunit in the draw, with only one permit available per hunt day. However, there is no designated hunting blind, and the hunt party can set up wherever they choose in the subunit. During 2021/22, only 7 (0.1%) first choice applications were for Reeder. Over the past 10 seasons, hunters have averaged about 0.9 ducks per day, though on average, only 13 hunters hunt the unit during the entire season.
