Game Bird Propagation License Requirement

Any person or business desiring to propagate for sale any game bird, limited to the following bird species in the families listed below, must submit a complete application and a non-refundable application fee of $58 and license agent fee listed on the permit application:

- (a) Columbidae (mourning doves and band-tailed pigeons only);
- (b) Anatidae (all species except mute swans and Egyptian geese);
- (c) Phasianidae
 - (A) Subfamily Phasianinae species only;
 - (B) Subfamily Tetraoninae (grouse and ptarmigan except Genuses Centrocercus and Tympanuchus);
 - (C) Subfamily Meleagridinae (wild turkey); and
 - (D) Subfamily Perdicinae (partridges and common quail (Coturnix coturnix);
- (d) Odontophoridae (Genuses Callipepla, Colinus, and Oreortyx only); and
- (e) Scolopacidae (Gallinago delicate only).

Permit is NOT needed for Coturnix japonica (Japanese quail).

Game Bird Propagation Licenses expire on December 31 of the year issued.

Shipping Requirements:

Any game birds shipped within or outside the state by the holder of a Game Bird Propagation License must have affixed to the shipping container a record showing:

- (a) Name, address, and Game Bird Propagation License number of shipper;
- (b) Name and address of consignee;
- (c) Species name (common and scientific) and numbers of game birds contained; and,
- (d) Import of game birds into the state of Oregon requires a Certificate of Veterinary Inspection from a federally accredited veterinarian and must be accompanied by an Oregon Department of Agriculture import permit with exceptions listed in OAR 603-011-0255.

Record Keeping and Reporting Requirements:

A record of all business transactions involving sale or purchase of eggs or game birds, must be current to date and available at the facility as listed on the permit. Records for the current calendar year must be made available for inspection by Oregon State Police or Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife personnel.

An annual report of operations must be received with the annual renewal application and fees before the date of permit expiration. The annual report shall include the total number of game birds by species purchased or acquired and all sales or transfers by species, including eggs, births and deaths within the previous calendar year.

Imported or exported game birds must have a certificate of veterinary inspection and any import permit or license and documentation of ownership or other information that may be required by the receiving state.

Cancellation and Non-Renewal of License

Failure to comply with any requirements within these rules or conditions of authorization is cause to cancel or deny renewal of the Game Bird Propagation License and confiscate or require disposal of the wildlife being held. A person may appeal cancellation or denial of a license or permit through a contested case hearing. The request for a contested case hearing on a proposed cancellation must be received by the Department within 21 days after service of notice (or 90 days for emergency revocations). The request for hearing on a proposed non-renewal must be received by the Department within 60 days of notice. Final Orders in contested case hearings will be issued by the Director.
