The Stott Mountain - North Alsea Travel Management Areas are cooperative access programs with several public and private landowners. The program helps control wildlife damage and maintains public hunting access on private and surrounding public land. The TMA's provides public hunting opportunity for deer, elk, bear, cougar, and game birds. All Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife Regulations and Seasons apply. Area may be closed during high fire danger. Landowner designations on the map may vary in accuracy due to frequent land exchanges. Many of the roads that are closed to motor vehicles by gates, posted signs or barriers are open for walk-in hunting only. Not all landowners on this map are program cooperators, and some areas may be closed to public hunting. Some cooperator's lands may not be enrolled in the TMA; be sure to reference the map to know what lands are enrolled. Please contact individual landowners about their access policy and current closures. Contact information for some landowners is available by visiting www.OregonHuntingMap.com and selecting the Stott Mountain - North Alsea Travel Management Areas.
