Exhibit D. Attachment 3.

#	[Number of commentors if multiple]	[Comment summary]	[Staff Response]
1.	2	Supporters viewed the sale as practical and mutually beneficial. They highlight opportunities for ODFW to consolidate operations and note that the Tribe already manages nearby facilities, suggesting the transfer aligns with existing stewardship	No response
2.	1	Opposition to the sale based on concern about losing public land and fear the land will be poorly managed or degraded if transferred.	No response

7/24/26 19:39:36	Kurt Kremers	General public	This sale makes sense for ODFW to consolidate employees into another office/area. The Umatilla Tribe lands surround this property and they already operate the fish trap nearby. Sounds like a win win effort for both.
7/25/26 7:02:20	Jacob hayes	Public land owner	Stop selling off our land, let alone to the tribes. They own enough as it is, and keep buying anything they can get their hands on. Public land is already getting more and more regulated as it is and harder to find, let alone when it keeps getting sold off.. the tribes do not need anymore land, they trash the land they have already.
7/26/26 23:12:18	Katelynn	General public	This is a great idea, how refreshing. LandBack!
